Role of ARCASIA Fellowship
Over the years, Fellowship has evolved....

• A Think-Tank group?
• A mentorship group?
• A Family of architects?
Food for thought

• What do we see the role ARCASIA will play in the next 5yrs? in the next 10years?
• What will be our vision?
• What will be our mission?
• How shall we grow & create influence?
Let look at our Constitution...
ARCASIA Fellowship
(Updated 2013)

1. Overview

1.1 The nature of the Constitution of the ARCASIA Council is such that, over the years, most Member Institutes’ representatives attending ARCASIA meetings were either Presidents of their own Institute or senior member of their profession. Owing to this particular qualification of member Institute representatives to ARCASIA Meetings i.e. President of his representative and Chairman of Board of Architectural Education, most representatives could only attend one, though some managed to return for another meeting. It was felt that a means should be devised within ARCASIA to take advantage of the wealth and connections of past Institute representatives not only to enable them to participate in ARCASIA activities but also to form a continuous hard core of people enthusiastic about the cause and objectives of ARCASIA.
1.2 The objectives of the ARCASIA Fellowship are:

1.2.1 To establish a Fellowship of ARCASIA which enables Member Institute representatives who have attended ARCASIA meetings in the past to maintain close contact with ARCASIA, and participate in, ARCASIA activities.

1.3 The ARCASIA Fellowship (AF) was thus established as an affiliated self-financed activity of ARCASIA in the 1997 Tokyo ARCASIA Council Meeting and started its operations from the ARCASIA Council Meeting held in Colombo in 1998.

1.4 Any ARCASIA Institute Member or official delegates who have attended Council Meetings and Forum/ACA at least twice, and all past ARCASIA officials (including Hon. Secretary and Hon. Treasurer) are eligible for Membership, and those who were already members of Fellowship by the 31st Council meeting in Lahore will remain as such. The following will be eligible to be members of the ARCASIA Fellowship members:

- All Past Official Delegates of member Institutes, who have attended at least two Council Meetings and ACA/Forum.
- All Past Office Bearers of the ARCASIA Council (Presidents, Past Presidents, Past Chairmen, Presidents Elect, Past Chairmen Elect, Vice Presidents, Past Vice Chairmen, Advisors, Hon. Secretaries and Hon. Treasurers).
- All Past Committee Chairs
- All those who were already Members of Fellowship before the 31st Council Meeting in Lahore, 2010.

Criteria to qualify as ARCASIA Fellow
(Under Arcasia Constitution)

- An office Bearer for 1 term
- An official delegate for 2 consecutive Council Meetings
Review/Proposal:

- To differentiate the original intent of leveraging on expertise/experience as seniors members of the ARCASIA from those who are passionate & have been regularly involved in ARCASIA.

- In the early days, there was a thought to have a "College of Fellows"; more formal framework to accord the Distinguished ‘ARCASIA Fellow’ title; can also mutually recognised those from outside Arcasia.

- For those who have been involved ‘informally’ over the years, the ability to join as ‘members of ARCASIA Fellowship’

RIBA FELLOW MEMBERSHIP

RIBA Fellow Membership gives us the opportunity to recognise our inspirational Chartered Members, the sometimes unsung heroes of the profession, who have made a real contribution to architecture, and the community.

What makes a Fellow of the RIBA is not set in stone – we are looking for inspiring figures that can represent the diversity, talent, and dynamism of architecture and the built environment. The attributes that lie at the heart of RIBA Fellow Membership are positive contributions to architecture; from working with poorer communities in your own country, to designing infrastructure abroad, and the desire to support, influence and affect change.

Fellows of the RIBA are ambassadors for the profession and RIBA community, with membership providing a profile and platform to continue to affect change and celebrate architecture.
