Introduction

ARCASIA

The Architects' Regional Council Asia (ARCASIA) is a Council of the Presidents of the National Institutes of Architects of twenty-one Asian member countries. It originated through a modest but important initiative which brought six founding members (India, Sri Lanka, Pakistan, Malaysia, Singapore and Hong Kong) of the region's National Institutes of Architects in 1967 with the aim to facilitate unity among the practitioners and academicians and thereby contribute to the development of the built environment of this region. In 1970, this regional center took the name ARCASIA and gradually expanded its regional programs and relations as well as maintained global collaborations with Commonwealth Association of Architects (CAA), the International Union of Architects (UIA) and SAARC Association of Architects (SAARCH). For effective and efficient operation, the total region has been divided into three zones. Zone A comprises of the Member Countries like, Bhutan, Bangladesh, India, Pakistan, Sri Lanka and Nepal. Zone B includes, Laos, Myanmar, Thailand, Indonesia, Malaysia, Brunei, Singapore, Philippine, Vietnam and Macau, China, Hong Kong, Japan, South Korea, Mongolia belong to Zone C. Today after a glorious and eventful journey of 50 years, it has prospered into a vibrant global family of this region where harmony exists in its socio-cultural and political diversity.

Annual meetings are held in different Member Institute Countries to give collective directions and address contemporary regional issues related to this profession. In addition to this, every alternate year, ARCASIA FORUM is hosted by one of the member countries with a particular theme. Asian Congress of Architects (ACA) is a major regional conference by ARCASIA, held every two years and coinciding with the Council meeting. It is more than a conference for the intellectual exchange of current architectural ideas combining the diverse cultural milieu of the region. Over the years, a number of Standing Committees have been formed namely, the Committee of Architecture Education (ACAE), Committee on Professional Practice (ACPP), Committee on Social Responsibility (ACSR), Committee on Green & Sustainable Architecture (ACGSA), Committee on Young Architects (ACYA) as well as the Fellowship Committee.

A wide range of activities and events make ARCASIA a vibrant hub of sharing, learning and prospering together. To give recognition and inspire commendable works, ARCASIA launches Awards in different categories which include ARCASIA Awards for Architecture, Architecture Asia Awards for Emerging Architect and ARCASIA Student Competition. Students Jamboree is arranged too as an effort to welcome and include the next generation architects as an eye opening for a prospective future.

Committee Formation

As the host of the ARCASIA Forum 20, IAB Executive Council Members and Dr. Abu Sayeed M. Ahmed, the convener of ARCASIA Forum 20 formed 30 sub-committees to organize one of the biggest international architectural gatherings in Bangladesh. After the formation of the committees, each committee was appointed with one convener and upon their consent, committee conveners were finalized. Conveners were then asked to appoint a member secretary and to provide a list of members for their committees.

To involve the members of IAB in ARCASIA Forum 20, a letter with the names of the committees and the conveners was sent to all the members to show their interest. Members were asked to select maximum three committees to work in. Later, the members were appointed to the committees according to their preferences.

AAA2019

ARCASIA in its endeavors to raise the standard of the built environment throughout Asia in general and in its Member countries in particular, has instituted the ARCASIA AWARDS FOR ARCHITECTURE (AAA) in order to encourage and recognize exemplary works done by ARCHIRECTS working in Asia. The aim of the ARCASIA AWARDS FOR ARCHITECTURES (AAA) is to acknowledge exemplary architectural work and in doing so encourage the sustenance of the Asian spirit, the development and improvement of the Asian built environment and enhancement of the awareness of the role of architects in the socio-economic and cultural life of Asian countries.

The ARCASIA Award also intends to demonstrate that good architecture is a major component of the positive influence on the human environment, and that physical development in Asia need not be in disharmony with the cultural values, national identity or the natural environment of developing countries in Asia.

Convener's Report

"ARCASIA AWARDS FOR ARCHITECTURE (AAA) was introduced in 1992 by ARCASIA in order to raise the benchmark of architectural practice in Asian context by recognizing extraordinary projects designed by architects, which are situated in Asia. In a two-year cycle, the first three Awards were given at every two years. Since 1999 the Awards were declared during the year in which ARCASIA Forum was held and were conferred in the year in which ARCASIA had its congress. In 2012, mandate was given to the President of ARCASIA 2013-2014 to restructure the AAA from a 2-year to a 1-year cycle. It was also decided that the Awards will be presented every year at the Forum as well as at the ACA.

This year it was indeed an honor for me to be appointed as the Award Convener for the AAA 2019. Experience of running such a vibrant program for a cycle, especially in the 50th anniversary of ARCASIA, was precious. After the formation of a three-member Awards Committee in April this year, the program of AAA 2019 was launched. A five-member Jury Board was also declared immediately. The submission of projects started on 5th May and at the deadline on June 17th some 424 projects were submitted from 14 countries in 10 categories. On 4th August, in the final session of the two-stage process, the Jury board unanimously selected 33 (thirty-three) projects from 9 (nine) categories as their final selection, out of which 11 (eleven) will be awarded with gold medal at the awards night in Dhaka on 5th November 2019 and the others will receive honorable mentions at the same event.

It is clearly visible that, with the shifting of the epicenter of economic and physical development, architectural profession is experiencing a phenomenal growth in this region. Considerable portion of global architectural practice has its focus on Asia now. A significantly growing number of local architects are also engaged in the production of excellent works and the bar is constantly rising.

Since launching in April, every step of this year's AAA program, such as registration, Q&A, periodic report preparation, final submission, preliminary shortlisting by individual jurors from their respective stations and the final jury session in Dhaka, was conducted by using a bespoke web-based platform specially created for this year's program. AAA 2019 team in Dhaka was very busy during those days. I would like to convey my sincere appreciation to all the participants and congratulate the winners. I also earnestly hope that AAA, in years to come, will continue to grow in volume and significance as the premiere Award for Architecture in Asia."

Tsinghua Ocean Center

Shenzhen, China 2011-2016

The design takes the organization of public spaces within the overall campus as a starting point. Instead of terminating the campus' main axis on the plan, the building today the axis to extend it upwards, with abundant public spaces injected along the way. The conventional quiet typology for university campuses is reinterpreted here to form a lively, vertical quiet system. Meanwhile, the semi-autonomous but interdependent relationship between the research centers can be visualized in this vertical campus, where a shared public level is sandwiched in between every two research centers. Conference room, brainstorming area, exhibition space, study room, cafe, and other facilities can all be found on these shared levels.

Furthermore, within each research center, the labs and offices are separated by a vertical gap, with stairs connecting different horizontal and vertical public spaces. As time goes by, the plants in these shared spaces will flourish and extend the greenery on the ground as the way up to the roof garden at its 60-meter height. This garden has a small open-air theater that provides a very special panoramic viewing platform for the campus. There, beyond the views of distant mountains and the hovering sky, one may also be lucky enough to catch some glimpses of the giraffes in the Wildlife Zoo nearby.

XY Yunlu Hotel

XY Yunlu Hotel is a boutique hotel nestled within a village between Guilin and Yangshuo and situated against the dramatic landscape of the Li River. The site consists of five renovated traditional farm houses and one new addition which functions as a restaurant and the main gathering space for hotel guests. Taking a sensitive approach to the local culture with villagers still living nearby, the overall planning and landscape design worked into the original village structure without creating new boundary conditions to the villagers. The renovated building were retrofitted to accommodate refreshing and uncommonly contemporary living while the new restaurant addition accepts an understated presence with the use of steel frame, glass pivot doors and wood panel in contrast with the locally sourced rough-out stone blocks, charcoal treated wooden louvers and terra-cotta roof tiles to provide a rich tactile experience. The spatial dialogue and sense of continuity between the old and the new buildings maintain an order of symbiosis between the foreign (hotel) and the local (village). Design of the pool incorporates the topography and an existing soapberry tree exists to form a lower and an upper pool. Adjacent to the path, the deep lower pool directs views towards houses, trees, and rocks, while the shallow upper one under the pavilion directs views towards mountains, clouds, and stars. The yoga pavilion shows respect to Mother Nature and classics in a minimalist way. The group of 10 steel walls and 10 columns supports the 4.5m x 20m transparent translucent curtain roof. The design also uses local stone blocks to provide a positive connection to the site. The site was back to modern room plan, however, the design of the space was controlled by the existing ceiling panel and polished ten stone ceiling. A tedious experience for the residents and the hotel guests.

In the contemporary Chinese context, arguably the most pertinent challenge is that of the relationship between individual, society, and nature. Education bears great responsibility. This new campus project aspires to be both a touchstone and a response to these issues.

Self storage business have always been part of residential community in Jap Western countries, and growing in the Eastern part of the World during the past years.

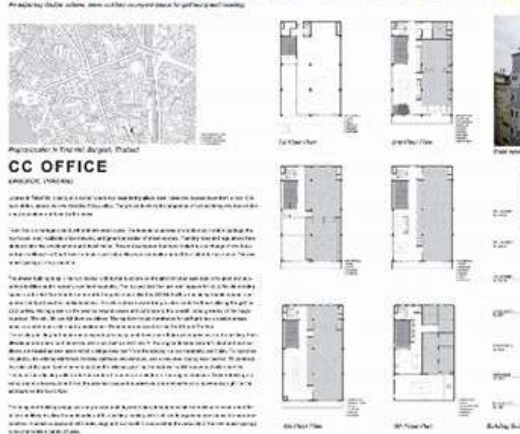

This new trend in urban living lifestyle has grown into a necessity, as residential units are getting smaller to be feasible in the market. Renting space for storage become more sensible than buying.

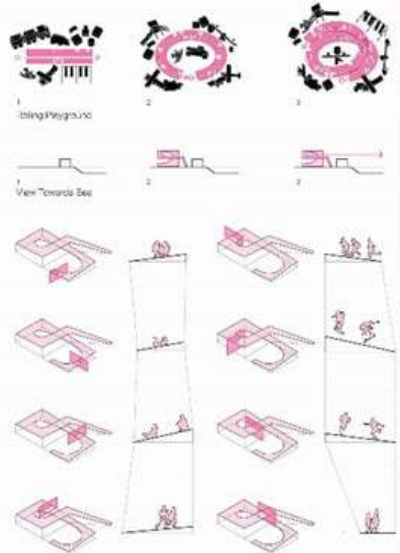

With basic knowledge from Western system supplies, the architects team design the architecture of REDD based on following main concepts:

NO-BOUNDARY Toilet (ZHUO Design - AAO)

Located on the Road Intersection (Beihuan Road and Yiyuan Road), architects designed a border-less plan layout making the nasty toilet blank out behind greening surrounded, assimilate into nature. Boundary between architecture and nature becomes ambiguous. Toilet compartments are gender-less.

Architects introduced design case of central park landscape to maximize toilet's availability. Working as shortcut towards park, it includes several leisure seats for passengers to rest and wait.

8K mirror stainless steel is adopted as facade material that varies along with different time and lighting. Architecture is integrated with surrounding in harmony and fading behind nearby forests at the same time. Besides passengers also play a part in the appearance of facade while the toilet is vitalized and being an infectious art installation.

Users gain unique experience feeling through the bright interior atmosphere as well as light from dormer window. Used as a supplement to indoor lighting, nature lighting reduces lighting energy consumption.

A green bucket is set up under tree containing a sink and two urinals for children. Such device releases the pressure for limited quantity of toilet compartments and increase the joy of children's toileting. It could also avoid embarrassment for parents gardening in toilet.

BRICK CAVE

The house is placed in a suburban community of modern houses, but it is a kind of a new type of architecture. It is designed as a primary that it will help shape a place similar to the natural environment in an artificial manner.

The personal structure of the house resembles that of a cave. The overall structure is made up of two layers of brick wall, creating a sense of depth and a sense of being inside a cave. The house is designed to be a place where people can live and work, and it is a place where people can find a sense of belonging.

The two built or 'cave' walls function as a filter to absorb the external aspects of the external environment (sunlight, wind, rain, noise, etc.) and to create a sense of being inside a cave. The house is designed to be a place where people can live and work, and it is a place where people can find a sense of belonging.

Located among the Paddy fields on Pottigala, suburb of Colombo, this is the home for a contemporary Sri Lankan & Sinhalese artist's house for special and informal social occasions.

The architect's aim is to build up to the artist's simple lifestyle, creating them with a close connection to the natural environment. The ground floor comprises of garden, the open living and working space, entrance and art gallery and the upper floor is the main private and covered space of the residence consisting of three bedrooms and a central living space. The whole house has a central courtyard for the artist's work.

Building is designed by the artist's style, with nothing in vain, to create an open for social interaction within the house. The entire house is perfectly connected. It is built and lives the nature of the landscape and highlights the surrounding garden and the best natural gardens, creating the feeling of a private oasis inside.

ARCASIA STUDENTS' ARCHITECTURAL DESIGN COMPETITION 2019

A Place for Resolution

We live in a time of many "conflicts". These conflicts are of varied natures. Some are social, cultural, religious; some are spatial, territorial; some are environmental and so on. The student is to identify such a conflict and to design a "Project" that attempts to find a "Resolution". One should venture beyond the ordinary boundaries of Architecture- not only be aware of one's surroundings and events but also attempt to seek answers. The project should show us how "an Architect" can bring about a "Resolution" in a "Conflict", and demonstrate the architect's role as a thinker, a reformer, an activist, and a visionary.

Submission Deadline
July 31, 2019

NATURAL ENVIRONMENT IS THE BEST EXAMPLE OF EQUILIBRIUM AND THUS, SUSTAINABILITY. ENGAGEMENT OF MAN TO NATURE HAS CREATED CHAOTIC CONSEQUENCES TO THIS UNIVERSAL SYMMETRY. BIOMIMICRY IS ONE OF THE BEST DESIGN APPROACHES WHICH TRIES TO MIMIC THE SUSTAINABLE SYSTEMS IN THE NATURAL ENVIRONMENT. BUT IT HAS BEEN RARELY APPLIED IN LARGE SCALE DEVELOPMENT PROJECTS.

THE AUTHOR ATTEMPTS TO USE THIS APPROACH FROM MICRO LEVEL TO MACRO LEVEL APPLICATIONS - AS THE PRIMARY CONCEPTUAL GENERATOR, IN THIS LITERATURE WE DISCUSS THE FINDINGS AND PROCESS OF THE STUDY THAT THE AUTHOR USED TO APPLY THIS CONCEPT THROUGH A BALL-CLAY MINING CONTEXT VIA AN ARCHITECTURAL PERSPECTIVE.

FORUM20
DHAKA19

The final program of the ARCASIA Forum 20 which is the Friendship night where all the international and local participants joined at the outskirt of Dhaka in Zinda park, Naraynganj on 7th November, 2019. This event started at 12 pm with Mela, (a Bengali Fair) and the main event started at 6:30 pm.

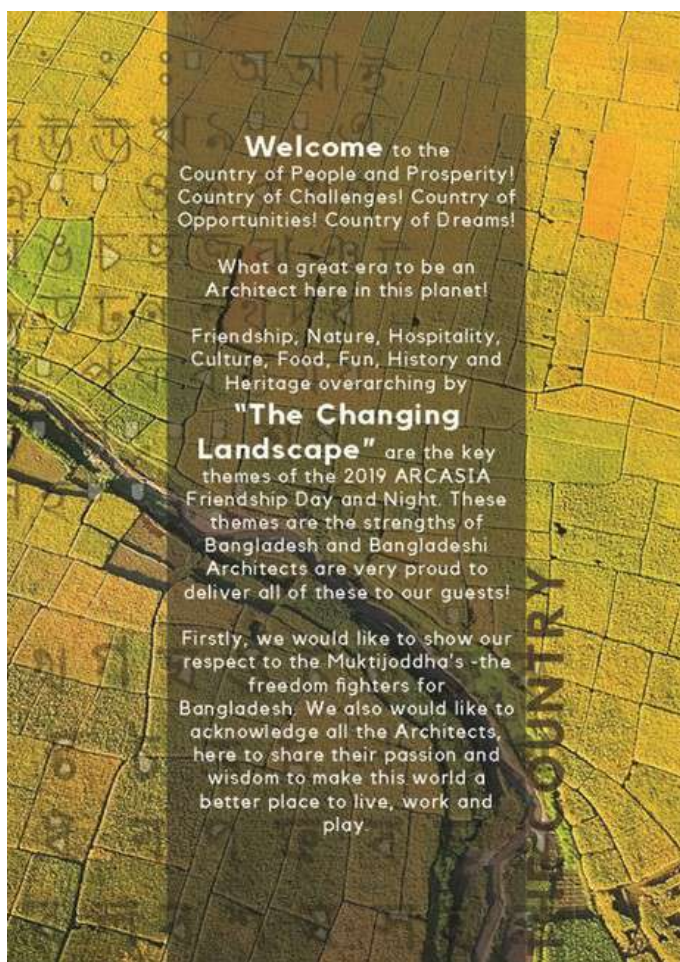

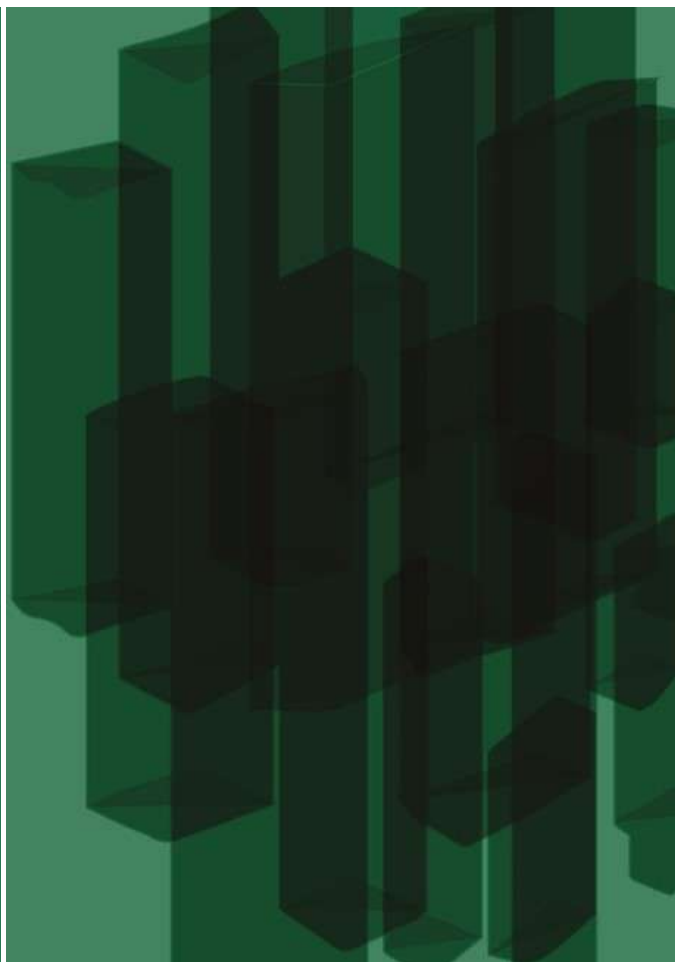

An Architect is an Architect for life, it is the way of life you lead as a social activist, designer, promoter, visionary and above all creator of future leaders to ensure this world as a better place to live.

We are lucky to be Architects!

Our strength is our unconditional love for people, planet and prosperity. Our prior concern for a better life for our next generation

"Don't limit a child to your own learning, as he was born in another time"
-Rabindranath Tagore
(Bengali Nobel Laureate poet)

Now in the 21st Century, our challenges are not human differences, our enemy is not geographic boundaries, not political powers across the globe or differences in religious belief among us! Our challenges are:

- Prevailing Poverty;
- Lack of Social Cohesion;
- Threats from Climate Change
- Weak Social and Economic Empowerment;
- Supply Gap in Housing and Infrastructure;
- and
- Fulfilling the Sustainable Development Goals.

Friendship Day and Night will reinforce our bondage over last one week and empower us to transform these challenges to opportunities!

The Venue

The outdoor venue for this year's event is a true reflection of a genuine piece of Bangladesh. A venue known for its eco-tourism strengths, a venue known for its community spirit, a venue known for its sustainable governance, a venue always welcomes its guests in style! Yes, it is Zinda Park, at the outskirts of Dhaka, around 60 minutes' drive from the IAB Centre.

The Guests

We are expecting more than 2000 guests at the Friendship Day and Night including more than 200 Architects from other ARCSIA Member countries and huge presence of the Bangladeshi Architects and their families. The ARCSIA countries are Bangladesh, Bhutan, Brunei, China, Hong Kong, India, Indonesia, Japan, Korea, Laos, Macau, Malaysia, Mongolia, Myanmar, Nepal, Pakistan, Philippines, Singapore, Sri Lanka, Thailand and Vietnam.

The Programme

1. The Traditional Bangladeshi Mela (Fair)- "Bangladesh at a Glance" from mid-day to 5:30pm
2. The Traditional Friendship Night - "The Changing Landscape" - from 7:00pm to 10:30pm

The Traditional Mela will start around mid-day to finish around 5:30pm. The Mela will have enough entertainment, food, activities, singing, dancing, games and opportunities just for networking or to make new friends, which will energise you for the evening session. We have organized plenty of traditional arts and crafts activities, traditional 'baul' songs, traditional food and traditional cultural activities to experience 'Bangladesh at a Glance'!

Our team of Architects as the host of the programme will receive you in style while you have the choice to experience a traditional horse cart ride to the venue or you can choose to walk around five minutes to the Mela venue from the parking. Once you are entering the venue, again you will be received by our Architect volunteers while you may walk to the Mela venue, you may also choose the option to ride to the Mela venue on a 'Palki' - our traditional mode of transport in the villages of Bangladesh operated by trained and professional men who carries the 'Palki' around.

"The Changing Landscape".

The location chosen for the event is a "piece of heaven"! Surrounded by natural beauty with series of green trees along with water ponds across the horizon with the national flower 'Shapla' floating over the ponds, natural music and songs by the wild birds, the sound of butterfly flying around, which is obviously enhanced by the creativity of the Bangladeshi Architects!

In addition to a mouth-watering traditional "BHOJ" (Feast) and extraordinary performances from the ARCASIA Member countries, we will reflect the Changing Landscape through a uniquely designed light, sound and laser show followed by a live dance drama reflecting the history of the independence of Bangladesh and an in depth documentation, demonstrating contributions of Architects in Nation building across the ecosystem and landscape of Bangladesh. This will be complemented by an outstanding performance by the Members of the Institute of Architects Bangladesh followed by performances by other ARCASIA Member countries. The performances will be awarded by our well-respected judges and the winners will receive traditional Bangladeshi gifts to remember that night!

7. Tours

To promote Bangladesh's Architecture and natural beauty, several tour options were available for the foreign participants. Some of them were complementary and some were paid tours.

Report from Tours and Travel Committee: ARCASIA Forum 20- Architecture in a changing Landscape (Nov 03- Nov 07,2019)

One of the important events of the ARCASIA Forum 20, Architecture in a Changing Landscape, was the complementary tour program for the foreign delegates. The delegates are a group of international participants, authors from 21 member countries who wishes to visit the places during the ongoing event. The whole program was organized and carefully monitored by ARCASIA Tours and travel committee comprised with the conveyer, member secretary and other members, assisted by a group of student volunteers from different universities. It was again co-ordinated with transport and logistic committee to ensure the smooth commute for the delegates. Before the forum 20, a series of tour options were provided with necessary details and time to time communicated with necessary information to the delegates by e-mail. The tours have been arranged for both in Dhaka city and exotic places outside from Dhaka as well. However, only inside the city tours were complementary and the rest were under the paid category. The tours and travel committee had information booths in both hotels and the main venue at BICC. To make sure the delegates had proper information regarding their tours and can plan beforehand, the members and the volunteers were well prepared to assist them. The committee was further occupied with paper works for the permission and necessary formalities. Upon arrival to the main booth at the BICC, the delegates were asked to fill out a form and can chose their desired tours. This process helps the committee to make an inventory for the tours and to ease out the process. The venues for the complementary tours are the Bait-ur-rauf mosque, Old city walk/ fine arts inst. At DU and national parliament building. Due to overwhelming response from the delegates to visit the parliament building, 2 days in a row are reserved for the tour. On 5th Nov, 2019 at 6:00 am, more than 40 delegates along with the committee members and volunteers visited the Bait-ur-rauf mosque. On the same day at 11:00 am, the tour was reserved for national parliament building. More than 70 international delegates participated on that tour.

On 6th Nov, 2019, at 6:00 am there were optional tours either in fine arts inst. at DU or heritage walk. Therefore, the delegates who were interested to avail the tours divided in to two groups. After few hours of the tour all were gathered in their hotel lobby once again to avail the parliament building tour. It was an immense response on that day. More than 100 delegates participated and take back memories, experiences and knowledge with them. All the delegates were treated with same respect and souvenirs were distributed by the tours and travel committee as a symbol of appreciation.

A rural training centre inspired by one of the country's oldest urban archaeological sites. The Centre was created to train staff of an NGO working with people inhabiting nearby chars, or riverine islands. Offices, a library, meeting rooms, and prayer and tea rooms are included in pavilion-like buildings surrounded by courtyards and pools.

Structural elements are of reinforced concrete and finishes also include timber and stone. The naturally ventilated structures have green roofs. The Centre is located in an agricultural area susceptible to flooding and earthquakes, and whose low-bearing soil has a low bearing capacity. As a result, an embankment has been constructed with a water run-off pumping facility. Constructed and finished primarily of one material - local hand-made bricks

Report of City Branding Committee-

To make this event meaningful, many committees contributed their valuable time with immense hard work and dedication. One such committees was the CITY BRANDING Committee; its job was challenging due to many factors like:

- Shortage of time
- Govt. permissions
- Approval of budget
- Weather Etc.

For the first time many new, innovative and outstanding activities took place in the city during this occasion. For the very first time, we provided chances to the architecture students (IAB accredited universities) to participate directly through installation work of for CITY BRANDING, ARCASIA FORUM 20.

All locations (for installation) was selected through lottery by honorable fellow members from IAB

Technology helps sustainable architecture, says ArcAsia president

Tribune Desk

Architects should focus on emerging technologies for developing sustainable structures to ensure environment-friendly habitat, global architecture leader Architects Council Asia (Arcasia) President Rita Soh remarked in Dhaka recently.

Institute of Architects Bangladesh (IAB) and Arcasia jointly organized the marking the twentieth forum of the organization, said a press release.

During the talk, Singapore-based architect Rita mentioned the significance of Dhaka summit as the organization is celebrating golden jubilee of founding anniversary this year.

Arcasia, a regional forum representing 21 economies in Asia, is considered as apex platform of architects in the region.

"Bangladesh has significant progress in architects as there are 21 universities offer higher education on the subject while Singapore has only two institutes to learn architect," Rita added.

Flashbacking to the early days of organization, Rita further mentioned that Arcasia emerged with six member countries which were once member of Commonwealth Architects Association or CAA.

"We began journey fifty years ago with six members which is now 21. And very soon Bhutan and Cambodia will on-board with the umbrella of Arcasia,"

Prior the presidency of Arcasia, RDC Architects Managing Director Rita led Singapore Association of Architecture and professional registration organization Singapore Institute of Architects.

Focusing on green architecture, Rita mentioned that there is no alternative to develop environment-friendly structure to make the earth more habitable.

"For make excellence in architectural development, professionals have to attain emotional capacity to go through the work with empathy. From Arcasia, we have continued our regular program to inspire young professionals to focus on more humanitarian aspects in projects," she added.

Arcasia has six committees to promote architectural knowledge sharing across different territories in the region. The committees focus on - architecture education, practice, social responsibilities, sustainability and young professionals.

Regarding the smart city, tech-shabby Rita explained inspiring views saying, "Here technology is the most powerful tools and we need to use this for the betterment of the country. The main focus is data analysis, big data, artificial intelligence and virtual reality. Some cases we want to see 3 dimension tools and competitive big data analysis. Even we use virtual reality for showing the clients about the house and others model." •

PRIME MINISTER
GOVERNMENT OF THE PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF BANGLADESH

I am happy to learn that the Institute of Architects Bangladesh (IAB) is hosting "ARCASIA Forum 20 & Council Meeting" on 03-07 November 2019 in Dhaka which is eventually the Golden Jubilee of the organization. Let me take the opportunity to welcome you all participants from home and abroad in Dhaka. The Theme of this year's council, "Architecture in a Changing Landscape", seemed to me very timely in the context of climate change, frequency of calamities and demography in the region.

The greatest Bengali of all time Father of the nation Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman dreamed of transforming the war-ravaged country into "Golden Bangladesh". Accordingly, he started the development venture in every sector after the liberation war. Architecture was not an exception. Under his close guidance and supervision, Institute of Architects Bangladesh (IAB) was established on 25 February 1972 in Dhaka. IAB is currently partnering with regional international organizations, namely Architects Regional Council of Asia (ARCASIA), Commonwealth Association of Architects (CAAA), SAARC Association of Architects and Urban International Design Architects (USA).

I hope that the council would help enhance professional contacts, mutual co-operation and assistance among member institutes as well as promote representation of architectural works particularly in the international arena.

In the current global perspective, it is not only necessary to attain success in global unity, peace and sustainability for the human race but also in sustainability of the earth's environment, both natural and built. I am optimistic of the architects of ARCASIA countries with their vision, creativity, enthusiasm as well as sheer dedication will play a crucial role in countering these evolving challenges.

I am confident that this regional specialised platform would promote fraternity and network building among the architects of the member states and beyond and also contribute their maximum towards sustainable development with a vision toward building healthy habitat for human civilisation.

I wish a grand success of this very special occasion and joyous celebration.
