HEADER

Text eg: APEC Architect Register is a list of architects who have achieved common standards of professional competence in their home economies within the Asia-Pacific region.

However, only 14 out of 21 APEC member economies are part of it:

1. Voluntary Participation:

Membership in the APEC Architect Register is voluntary for each economy. Some economies may choose not to participate due to various reasons, such as differing regulatory frameworks or priorities.

2. Establishment by Each Economy:

The Register is divided into independent sections, with each participating economy maintaining its own section. These sections are operated by Monitoring Committees within each economy.

3. Agreed Criteria:

The criteria for admission to the APEC Architect Register are agreed upon by member economies. Architects must fulfill these criteria to be enrolled in the Register.

4. Mutual Recognition:

The APEC Architect framework aims to facilitate mobility by reducing barriers to the export of architectural services. However, not all economies may prioritize this goal equally, leading to variations in participation.
