1. BRIEF HISTORY OF INSTITUTE

The Department of Fine Arts granted permission to establish the Association of Siamese Architects (ASA) on 28 August 1934 with the aim to promote and nurture the prosperity and awareness of the profession as well as to provide a forum of knowledge among its members. At its founding, ASA had 33 initial members who drew up rules and regulations as well as appointing an administrative committee to carry out routine works of the Association.

ASA initiated its operation due to the Indo-China Dispute and World War II in 1941 and was revived in 1945. Though the Kingdom's name had changed to "Thailand", ASA retained its original name as a way of preserving a link to the founding principles.

From 1947, ASA concentrated on building an organization that served both the profession and society. Activities addressed the following areas:

- Professional practices
- Professional standards
- Professional ethics
- Code of conduct
- Cooperation among members in pursuing shared goals
- Promoting architectural research
- Professional advocacy

In 1954, ASA was granted His Majesty's permission to be an association under His Royal Patronage and became known as "The Association of Siamese under Royal Patronage" ever since.

In December 1965, the Architectural Profession Act was enacted by the Ministry of Interior, which required architecture firms and architects to be licensed before practicing or soliciting business. The Board of Control of Engineering and Architectural Professions passed a resolution to certify ASA as a professional association allowing ASA to play a vital role in the regulation of professional practice in 1973.

In 2000, reflecting the evolution of the design professions in Thailand, the Architect Council of Thailand (ACT) was established under the Architect Act and encompasses four main design disciplines: architecture, interior design, landscape architecture, and urban architecture. ASA is a member of ACT.

Currently, ASA services to members including:

- Ethical oversight
- Publications
- Lectures
- Seminars

Objectives

- Promote the continuing enhancement of the architecture profession in ways that are friendly to the environment and that preserve Thai traditions, while maintaining professional independence.
- Promote harmony and unity among members to enhance the stature and efficacy of ASA with a common focus on activities that benefit the profession and society.
- Serve as a resource for professional and technical information and advice for the benefit of members and society.
- Encourage, support, and promote education, research, and development that ensures the field of architecture progresses with the times.
- Cooperate with government agencies, as well as domestic and international organizations and institutions, to create an understanding and appreciation of the principles, role, and scope of the architecture profession as a means for fostering credibility and trust.

4. Revenues and Expenditures

ASA annual revenue derives from the annual architecture exposition. Additional sources of revenue include: membership fee, professional and academic seminars, social events and activities, recreational activities, architectural tours, publications (books, journal, and newsletter) and merchandise.

In 2000, ASA established ASA Fund as a fixed-deposit account to serve as the primary revenue source, to provide financial security, any annual operating surplus goes into the ASA Fund account and cannot be withdrawn. ASA can use only the interest generated.

According to current ASA bylaws, Committee members must propose an annual operating plan with budget for approval at least 60 days prior to the annual general meeting to the Fund Committee, the membership of which consists of past presidents and honorary members. After approval, the Board of Committee presents the plan and budget at the annual general meeting, along with a report of the prior year's performance. The annual operating budget for the fiscal year beginning May 2024 through End of March 2025 is approximately 84.2 million Baht (2.63 million USD).

5. Number of Chapters

Headquarters

ASA headquarter is located in Bangkok which serves as the capital city of Thailand. The primary operational role of the ASA headquarter is to provide services to members and architects in general through general administration (administrative and financial services) and by implementing the various aspects of the Board's annual operational plan: professional, technical, preservation, architecture, international, and recreation. In addition, the ASA provides up-to-date information to members and architects concerning building codes through publications, seminars, and inquiries. The ASA headquarter provides membership information, processes new members, renews memberships, and sells publications and merchandise.

ASA Chapters and Subchapters

ASA has 4 Chapters which are Northern Chapter (Lanna), Northeastern Chapter (Esan), Southern Chapter (Taksin), and Eastern Chapter (Burapha). Each of the chapters and subchapters operates as a commission comprised of ASA members who practice architecture in the region. Chapter chairs are elected every two years with terms concurrent with ASA president and each chapter has the same structure as the ASA with a Board. Subchapter chairs are appointed by ASA President and function under its chapter. The chapters undertake such activities as an annual regional architectural exhibition, professional and technical seminars, architectural research, recreational events, support professionals in the region, coordinate in the implementation of the annual plan, and provide information to the ASA board.

6. Annual General Assembly

The Annual General Assembly was last held on 1 May 2025 during the ASA Architect'25 Expo to present an annual report on the association's activities, approve an annual operational plan and budget of each fiscal year, approve a proposed revision of the bylaw and resolutions.

7. Legal Status of the Institute

ASA is registered as a private association under the laws of Thailand. After the establishment of the Architect Council of Thailand (ACT), all licensing and registration of architects came under ACT. It is, by law, a regulatory body for the design professions in Thailand and replaces the Board of Control of Engineering and Architectural Professions, which had been made up entirely of government representatives. However, the ACT Board is made up of a majority of architects, elected by ASA and ACT members.

8. Legal Status of the Architect in the Country

The Architect Act B.E. 2543 prohibits any person to practice the controlled architectural profession of all disciplines unless granted license(s) on a particular discipline(s). Personal licensing by the council is derived from the Architectural Profession Act B.E. 2508 and classified into four levels as follows:

- 1) Chartered architect
- 2) Professional architect
- 3) Associated architect
- 4) Specially-associated architect

A juristic entity engaging in business related to the controlled architectural practice must register with the council for a corporate license and must be operated under the license of personal architect (s).

Qualifications and requirements for licensing of both persons and juristic entities are stipulated in the Architect Council of Thailand (ACT) ordinances.

9. Architects Registration Authority in Thailand

The Architect Council of Thailand (or "ACT"), founded in 2000, is an independent administrative body that is responsible for practice of profession regulation throughout Thailand. The Council manages the architect's register authorization and certifies all levels of academic degree along with providing standards, disciplinary action, and guidance for architects practicing in the nation.

Furthermore, ACT is the competent authority in Thailand for the implementation of the Architectural Act on the recognition of professional qualifications of its subsidiary professions. It also holds responsibility for drafting and enacting regulations pertaining to membership, licenses and qualifications, selection and election of committee members, enforcing standards of practice and policing violations of the professional code of ethics, as well as the general administration of the Council. The Council acts as a conciliator to resolve disputes among members; educating the general public and providing counsel to the government with regards to architecture and architectural technology.

Architect profession in Thailand is governed by the Architect Council of Thailand, (ACT) which comes under the purview of the Ministry of the Interior. ACT is responsible for the issuance of rules and regulations and providing licenses for the 4 types of architecture.

Among ACT's other functions are:

1. to promote the education, research and practising of the architectural profession;
2. to promote harmony and conciliation among its members;
3. to promote the welfare of and to honor the members;
4. to control the behavior and operation of persons practising the controlled architectural professional in compliance with the standards and etiquette of the architectural profession;
5. to support, advise, disseminate and service academic subjects for the people and other organizations in connect with architectural science and technology;
6. to provide consultation or advice for the government relating to architectural and technological problems and policies;
7. to act as a representative of persons practicing the architectural profession in Thailand and
8. to perform any other activity as prescribed in the Ministerial Regulations.

The architecture profession in Thailand includes architecture; urban design; landscape architecture; and interior architecture.

In 2010, ASA, in cooperation with the Engineering Institute of Thailand under H.M. the King’s Patronage (EIT) have established the Thai Green Building Institute (TGBI) and developed the Thai’s Rating of Energy and Environmental Sustainability for New Construction and Major Renovation (TREES-NC), Core and Shell Building (TREES-CS) and Home (TREES-HOME), the rating system specially designed for green buildings with Thai context.

TGBI also focuses on promoting TREES and green building practices for Thai practitioners. They launch a 2-day training and testing program. The participants who pass the exam will become TREES Associate New Construction (TREES NC), TREES Associate Existing Building (TREES EB) and TREES Associate Core and Shell Building (TREES CS). TGBI Seminars and Workshops include;

- ASEAN – US Energy Efficiency Education Workshop

- LEED for Existing Building and Case Studies
- LEED for Commercial Interior and Case Studies
- Thai Green Building for Sustainable Economy
- Green Building Site Visit

12. Key Issues Facing the Architects, Architectural Profession, and Institute

While plenty of architectural firms around the world are deploying digital data with AI in the design process, there should be a long way until AI can generate characteristics like human work. The advancements in technology have effects on architecture in some disciplines. Thus, architects can focus on leveraging AI for generative architecture as a tool to augment practice, replacing mundane tasks. ASA aims to support and inspire architects to coexist with new technology for sustainable development through open forums, contests, and space for creativity and collaborations showcase.

Declining Membership is another key issue facing many Institutes. In order to stimulate participation by current members and provide interest from younger architects who are not members, ASA will formalize the ISA Talk Series to be geared towards Young Architects interests and make it an international event. This will create a platform for Thai architects to be able to present their works at other international events and we encourage ARCASIA to join us and take part in our proposed program.

- Objective : Create a platform for ASA Young Architects to present their designs internationally.

13. Resources

Siamese Architects Foundation (SAF)

Siamese Architects Foundation was established on 3 November 2014. The main objective of the foundation is to assist members with welfare benefits, provide loans or grants of money for training candidates and academic research in the architectural profession, encourage and support activities that enhance the prosperity of the architectural profession, engage or support charity organizations for the public benefit. Current SAF projects include, study scholarship to students from recognized universities and illness benefit.

Event Sponsorship

Institute actively seeks for sponsors who are aligned with ASA event's mission aiming to continuously encourage collaboration and networking among different entities. The showcase opportunities for the events are designed to provide exposure and recognition for participating ASA programs.

14. Institute Efforts to Implement ARCASIA

ASA maintains continuous participation in ARCASIA programs. We have been creating common ground that facilitates continuous growth among architects by providing training programs and development opportunities for local professionals to engage with member countries.

ASA always looks forward to encouraging participation and collaboration from ARCASIA Member Institute and beyond, for example, we continue to have the ASA Experimental Design Competition 2025 open call for worldwide entrants of both professional and student category. More information, <https://www.asacompetition.com/>

In April 2025, ASA co-hosted the ARCASIA ACSR workshop successfully following the theme of “Architecture for Marginalized Community” with ACSR Chair, Ar. Farhana Sharmin Emu, welcoming Member Institute delegates to explore actual project sites around Bangkok and exchange conversations with experienced community architects at ASA headquarter office.

15. Plan for the Future

ASA embraces and supports collaborations that shape the future of architectural design and empower professionals to deliver sustainable practices. We have panned out next year plan as follow;

- Four-Nation

ASA and alliance institutes are looking forward to the next edition of Four-Nation publication where we gather architects' works from 4 countries in a form of e-book.

The Four-Nation member institutes are looking forward to continuing our Live Design Discourse Workshop, where experienced architect mentors collaborate with architectural students across various venues. Each session explores a unique theme, fostering creativity and professional growth in years to come in their future career.

- Transit Oriented Development (TOD) Initiatives

ASA is now working on an urban development that maximizes the amount of residential, business and leisure space within walking distance of public transport around Ramkhamhaeng station in Bangkok.
