Neighbours: Reflections on an Exhibition

Synopsis of Lecture

The topic of the Swiss Pavilion for the 2023 Architecture Biennale in Venice was "Neighbours." It refers to the spatial proximity of the Pavilion of Switzerland (Bruno Giacometti) and Venezuela (Carlos Scarpa), both built in the early 1950s. They share a wall. For the duration of the exhibition, this wall is opened. The iron gates closing the pavilion are removed. The combined ground plans of the two pavilions are depicted on a carpet. Rather than serving as a backdrop for architectural representation, the pavilion exhibits itself. Which are the specificities of an architecture exhibition? How can one convey a message if the average attention span of visitors is 30 seconds? Have exhibitions taken over the role of architecture theory?

Philip Ursprung is Professor of the History of Art and Architecture and formerly Dean of the Department of Architecture of ETH Zurich.
